

THE QUEST FOR THE MUSTARD JACKET 2007
The Year the Mustards Respect Is Returned
Player Forecast

Like Pork through Ice's intestines, another year has passed quickly. The Super Bowl, The Masters, the opening week of the NFL Season will all take a back seat to the sporting event of the year, "The Quest for the Mustard Jacket". For three days in late September, the eyes and ears of the world will once again transfixed on OC, MD for the K8 2007 Club Championship. I said last year that many were saying that the Mustard Jacket wasn't as prestigious as it once was. Sadly, this author feels that this may be true. I have seen more Summer Solstices this year than I have the Mustard Jacket. Hopefully it will make an appearance, because quite frankly it's a hell of an Ice Breaker.

Well another year has passed and the K8 family had some good things, and sadly some bad things happen. It became apparent to this author that this club is about so much more than golf, and that sometimes it's important to take the time to appreciate the good things that we have in our lives, and not take them for granted, even things as simple as golf, poker, social events, jokes, and brotherhood. For everyone that makes this happen for our group, I say "THANK YOU". !

At the courses it was a year filled with laughs, tears, love, hate, worship, envy, slices, hooks, duffs, controversy, greenies, boobie balls, skins, diarrhea, constipation, and as usual occasionally there was a good hole played.

The handicaps this year are very interesting. One K8 is under 10, Nine have handicaps in the teens, and eight of these are within 3 strokes of each other. Seven K8's have handicaps in the the 20's, with six of them within 4 strokes. There are Three k8's in the in the 30's, and with those stokes they could be very dangerous. This is quite a change from any other Quest. The field is wide open. This year I have received help from the man who make this trip possible Hojo Hasselhoff Canary Carnaggio. He offers his insight and takes, from knowledge gained secretly video taping everyone's conversations ala Coach Belechik.

Let the arguing begin. My picks for top 4 are Lance-a -Lot Links, , Squeezy, Ad-Cocks and Cow-Pie.

PLAYER: George "Sky Pilot, , Jim's Brother-in- Law

Rank by Handicap: 1

Handicap 2007: 7 Handicap 2006: ?? Handicap 2005: ??

K8 Claim to Fame: Lowest Gross Scorer in every K8 event he has participated in.

Special Interests: Jim

Favorite Movie: The Aviator

Favorite Pie:Boisenberry

Favorite Yoga Pose: The UFO Vinyasa- Assume the Position, Lift Up, Float Back like a UFO. Says George " It's like a Natural Colon Cleansing".

Favorite We think it's a Golf Tip tip: Keep it on Plane

Timex Says: Played recently in his foursome. Nice guy, very solid golf game, but like everyone becomes unfocused due to the Tripods prescence and svenghalli like powers. T he course difficulty will help him because he's a straight shooter, and many K8's aren't.

The Canary Says: Well he's not me, but he is very competitive and smooth. He has a consistent swing but at times his putter is shaky. Can be his worst enemy by shooting such low rounds, his handicap is in single digits which hurts his chances for the Mustard.

Pro's- The closest thing we got to a Pro

Con's- Low handicap and hoopla surrounding a Major such as the Quest could do him in. Little room for error.

OC Forecast- Will shoot well, but will have to shoot in the low to mid 70's, everyday for the Jacket.

PLAYER: Bryan "Ice, Wet Fart, Gerber, Angry Bowel, Mud But, Mr. Mattress, Pork Rib, Glass Licker, F-bomber," Eiser

Favorite We think it's a Golf Tip tip: Always be aware of your Ball Position

Timex Says: Awesome Golf skills! No Doubt! However, I have very fond pre- Pork consumption memories of Ice from the distant OC past. Oh those pre-Pork stories! Sadly they are the past. Superman was brought down by kryptonite, Clinton by Lewinsky, Vick by Dog Fighting, Nixon by Watergate, and Sadly Ice by Pork. He loves his OC Ribs but they don't love him. We need a Pork intervention for this man. He is crying out for help.

The Canary Says: If only he were as tough as me. Grill cheese and Yeagermister Bombs do him in. If he switches to Vodka he has a chance. Not a finisher, never was. Can't stay out late with the big dogs. Has become soft. Only chance he has is if he spends more time with Soup Can, takes Amodiam AD, Pepto and Tums.

Pro's- Has every tool and an awesome overall Golf Game, Owns most Hollister, Pac Sun, Abercrombie and Rue 21 clothes of any K8. Most popular K8 in history.

Con's- Bowells and Focus, low handicap. Nice evening wear usually hangs in the closet untouched. Mattresses used to be funny, now they are just where our hero spends the majority of the OC trip.

OC Forecast : If his bowels and his wandering mind are controlled he can be unstoppable. Ice can easily average 84 each day which will put him in the running for the Mustard..

Timex Says: Brings a certain Professionalism to the K8's. Very talented Golfer, and had too many strokes last year. Has promised to make up for the missing jacket on Thu and Fri night this year. Captivating Story Teller!

The Canary says: Almost as charming as me. Current Club Champ. Did a poor job this year representing the Mustard Jacket. The jacket hasn't been worn at any K-8 events, then again Ken hasn't played in any K-8 events. Likes to talk with his hands. Can be a force if he stays away from pork and pork by-products. Must pack pepto. Can he repeat?

Pro's- Has all the tools, Reduced his handicap 9 strokes through tireless practice and play in 2007.

Con's- Has nine less strokes than last year on handicap.

Favorite We think it's a Golf Tip tip: Keep your head in line with the shaft

Timex Says: Something tells me he has been in Southern Maryland shooting in the 70's, planning his assault on the unsuspecting K8's.

The Canary Says: He is not me. He is playing possum by shooting high scores or Buster Titanium is now Mr.Softie.

Pro's- Has all of the tools, and may be the best putter in the group. He can out drink most K8's and is a very adept stunt cart driver .

Con's- Lack of 2007 tourney play, Six less strokes than last year.

OC Forecast- Difficult to predict due to limited 2007 outings. Capable of low 80's everyday which puts him in top 4.

The Canary Says: Marc aka "Duck"-Another quiet guy who puts up low numbers. Once again if smoking the right cigar could be a factor. Last year was a better scoring year for him. Don't count him out.

Pro's-Great Approach shots, good putter, very steady

Con's- Pent up anger and utter disdain for some k8's could be unleashed.

OC Forecast- Duck is consistently one of the low scorers, and will compete. He will be in the top 4, and will have to control his tireless dancing and duckwalking at Fagers to conserve his energy. I thought last year was going to be his year but 2007 could be the year of the Duck.
